

HERE'S the POINT!

By SPENCE HELD

And then there was the owner of a professional football team who was having a hard time financially.

He had to fire the center, the tackles and the guards to make both ends meet.

(Note to women: If you don't understand this joke send for my free booklet with diagram.)

Point Loma High looked sluggish in last year's football carnival, as I remember, but there was nothing sluggish about 'em Friday night in Balboa Stadium. They were eager, spirited, and full of fight. Big Bill Bradford, fullback, ran like a runaway freight rig on the Ridge Route. . . . He took Mission Bay's kickoff and raced almost 90 yards for a touchdown; the fact that it was called back because of a clipping penalty detracted nothing from his fine run.

Quarterback Roger Soares, poised and confident despite the screaming crowd of 20,000, then directed the team on a touchdown drive that saw him scamper the last dozen yards himself.

(Yeah, I'm aware that games are won up front in the line—we'll get around to those boys later.)

Saturday night I occupied my usual pew in Aztec Bowl for the S. D. State College of Pacific game.

Two former Pointers are cavorting for the Aztecs—Jerry Ohlin, 215-pound tackle, and Jerry Booth, quarterback for last year's PLHS team.

Ohlin looked good out there. He made a lot of tackles during COP's drives toward the goal line. . . . Pacific's best weapon was a short sharp pass from Quarterback Tom Flores to a couple of tall ends.

Booth, a tall 190-pounder, got into the game during the closing moments.

He tossed a couple of passes and also had an opportunity to show his defensive ability. . . . A COP runner broke into the open but Booth nailed him with a clean diving tackle that was one of the best of the evening.

State can use a quarterback who can tackle.

Hi, Governor!

See where some women in armed themselves with water pistols to fight off ardent motorists on dark streets.

Their pistols shoot a harmless, strong-smelling disinfectant.

Maybe S. D. women could discourage characters like the "shoe-bandit" with similar weapons.

Years ago there was a water pistol on the market that fired a chemical designed to temporarily blind an attacker. . . . Whether it's still available I don't know.

Anyone for tennis?

DeMolay Wins Softball Title

Point Loma Chapter, Order of DeMolay, defeated the North Hollywood Chapter 3 to 2 in the finals of the Southern California Jurisdiction softball tournament Sunday at Santa Ana.

The tournament trophy, 2' 6" tall, will be presented to the local chapter Wednesday night, Oct. 2 at the Point Loma Masonic Temple.

Mike Manning will receive his Representative DeMolay award Wednesday night. This will be an open ceremony, set for 7 p.m., and the public is invited.

New Teachers At Cabrillo School Include Six From Other States

New teachers at Cabrillo School this fall include six new to San Diego.

John E. Davenport, 6th grade teacher from Mt. Vernon, Ohio, was graduated from Marshall College, W. Va. in 1954, and taught two years at Mt. Vernon. He is married and has two boys.

Miss Julie Crossman, 5th grade teacher, is from Grand Rapids, Mich. (B.A.—University of Michigan.) Miss Crossman taught 6th grade at Grandville, Mich.

Miss Barbara Lee teaches a combination first-second grade, is from Carmi, Ill., and was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1957. Miss Laurena C. Matson, 3rd grade, from Chevy Chase, Md., went to the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Va., Class of 1957.

Mrs. Ruth Levy, 2nd grade, attended Western Reserve University and was graduated from Ohio State. Her husband, Lt. Levy, is a dentist in the Navy.

Robert B. Whitacre, 6th grade, came from Columbus, Ohio where he taught five years.

Point Loma High Homecoming Set Friday, Oct. 4

Point Loma High School will hold its annual Homecoming celebration Friday, Oct. 4. The Class of '58 is making arrangements.

The Pointer football team will tangle with traditional rival La Jolla High at the local field at 2:45 p.m., and a dance is scheduled in the Girls' Gym from 8 to 11 p.m. "The Velvet Tones" will provide the music.

Linda Slaughter, dance chairman, announced the theme will be "Hong Kong Holiday." This theme also will be carried out in pageantry at the football game, featuring the Lomanettes and band, it was said.

Alumni are welcome at the dance, Friday night—they are asked to phone Mrs. Jean Wood, girls' vice-principal, for reservations. (AC-3-3121.)

Fantastic Total Of Yellowtail Taken In Derby

Now in the throes of mopping-up operations following the final fishoff of the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby, members of the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce's committee took time out to tab the 1957 edition of the classic as head and shoulders above all the rest.

The 1957 derby ended as it began—at full speed. Finalists in the third period fishoff last Saturday racked up a total of 147,966—well over three times as many taken in the best previous full season on record.

Winner of the fishoff was Jimmy Frumento, Bell, who bagged a 21 pound, 12 ounce yellowtail. Other winners of prizes in the fishoff were: 21-7, Mike Narisco, North Hollywood; 21-2, Jack Winsatt, Garden Grove; 21-14, Toshio Mayeda, Los Angeles; 19-10, Paul Snyder, San Gabriel; 19-10, Harry Iwata, Coronado; 19-6, Pat Drinkard, San Diego.

LOMA PORTAL PTA

Loma Portal PTA will hold its membership drive Monday, Oct. 7 through Friday, Oct. 11. It was announced by the membership chairman, Mrs. Raymond Counsell. The theme will be "The Strength of PTA—Vision-Courage-Action."

In line with this theme, a poster will be hung in each classroom with a picture of Superman focusing his "Vision" on the number of PTA members the students in that class obtain. A large poster in the cafeteria will show the room standings. Posters are being designed by Mrs. Roy M. Cleator, art chairman.

The PTA hopes that each Loma Portal teacher, mother and father will become a member. Dues envelopes will be sent home with each student; but anyone interested in children and the schools may join by contacting the membership chairman.

PLHS Speech Arts Students Present Special Program

Speech Arts students of Point Loma high school are presenting a Constitution-Citizenship program Thursday and Friday, Sept. 26 and 27, as the first assembly programs of the school year. These assemblies are in the auditorium at 9 a.m. and 9:40 a.m. Parents and friends are invited.

"Since September is the official month when we observe the anniversary of our Constitution, and since the specific day has also been declared by the President as Citizenship day, students feel that every member of the student body should have the significance brought home to them," said Anna Lesko, student body president.

Participating in the program will be Nancy Glazier as commentator; Bill Rust who reads the Preamble, and the following students who offer an interpretation of the Bill of Rights: Gloria Toerner, Ted Crowell, Cheryl Dudley, Robert Rado, and Athena Zarkos.

Miss Jeweldeen Brodie is faculty director. Stage Design students have constructed appropriate sets under the direction of Miss Willa B. Brodie. Robert Heninger, choral music director, will lead the audience in songs and the ROTC Color Guard will present colors under the guidance of Sgt. Valdez.

Portuguese Plan Banquet Saturday

Commemorating the 45th anniversary of the discovery of San Diego Bay, a banquet and dance will be held by members of the Portuguese-American Social and Civic Club, Saturday, Sept. 28, at 7 p.m. in the Palm Room of U. S. Grant Hotel.

Vice-mayor Frank Curran will be guest speaker. Also included on the program will be two entertainers from Portugal, Maximiano de Sousa and Antonio Fernandes. Master of ceremonies for this 17th annual Cabrillo Day banquet will be Lawrence Oliver, founder of the club and its first president.

Musical instruments of glittering gold mesh, surrounded by red roses and gold leaves, will reveal the banquet theme, "Floral Symphony."

Mrs. Lawrence Oliver, general chairman, has on her committee: Mmes. Manuel Monise, Manuel Gama, Machado Medina, Clarence Gonsalves, V. Alcobia, J. Xavier, Frank F. Rose, A. L. Madruga and Peter Madruga. M. H. Freitas is in charge of ticket reservations.

There will be a cocktail hour preceding the dinner.

United Fund Drive Volunteers Needed In O. B. & Point Loma

United Fund Drive volunteers are needed in the Ocean Beach-Point Loma area, Mrs. James Mark, area geographic campaign chairman, said yesterday. She issued a call for volunteers to help in the residential campaign of the newly formed United Fund. Volunteers will be assigned to areas of their request, she said. The door-to-door part of the campaign will get underway Monday, Nov. 4, through all marked to fight heart, cancer, polio, and other diseases. The Drive Headquarters, AC-3-7191. The Fund was formed to meet the increasing number of campaigns here and save time and money. It will include all the Community Chests in the county as well as the Red Cross, the American Cancer Society, the Epilepsy Society, Myasthenia Gravis Foundation, the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council.

Public Speaking Class Offered

Local businessmen and/or members of clubs or lodges interested in public speaking are invited to join a free course in Public Speaking which meets Mondays, 7 to 9:30 p.m., at Point Loma High School. (Room 31.) The class, taught by Joe Milborne, is held under auspices of the Northwest Adult School program.

ELEANOR WILKEVICH BACK FROM TRIP

Eleanor Wilkevich, artist-structor, has returned to Point Loma after a month's visit to the east coast.

Mrs. Wilkevich, whose paintings hang in the Russell Museum in Great Falls, Montana, and the Fine Arts Gallery in San Diego, again will be instructing classes for the adult department of San Diego City Schools.

Daylight Saving

Daylight Saving Time will come to an end Sunday, Sept. 29. . . . Turn your clocks back one hour when you go to bed Saturday night.

Two Local Fires Are Investigated

Two fires in the Peninsula area Saturday were being investigated this week by the Fire Marshal's office, it was reported.

Dana Junior High School was the scene of a small blaze that did little damage Saturday afternoon. A window was broken and rags were stuffed in and set afire, according to reports.

"It looks like the work of juveniles," said a spokesman at the Fire Marshal's office. Saturday night, about 10:55 p.m., fire damaged Rocky's Sportswear store at 5025 Newport Ave. Damage was confined principally to the contents of the store.

Vagon Missing

red wagon decorated with greyhound on the side, and led by Michael Anderson, 4622 Air Ave., to deliver the Peninsula News, disappeared from his yard the night of Sept. 12. Have you seen it?

Parent Education

The San Diego Adult Education Program is making available to Peninsula mothers a course in parent education.

Covering child development from birth through adolescence, the class offers answers to many questions concerning the raising of children.

Location of the class is the Ocean Beach Community Center.

Child care is available during class hours, held each Thursday from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Carroll at HU-8-4764.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Editor: It was interesting to see the list of proposed improvements to our Ocean Beach shore in the "News" but I was disappointed that there was no mention of a pavilion. There are seats at Newport Ave. for only about ten people and these are in the open.

Those of us who long ago gave up ocean and sun bathing would like to sit there and enjoy the sea breezes and the tranquilizing effect of the waves on the nerves. I will not pass on the effect of the sights on the beach.

Recently I was on the beaches at Oceanside and Encinitas. Both of these small towns had pavilions and the former has a large pier. The pavilions are very small, especially the one at Encinitas, but the one at Oceanside even had a few tables.

A larger one would be needed here but most anything would be an improvement on the present lack at this time. The New Jersey resorts would be out of things without the pavilions, and generally the most costly pier.

On fine day in May 1954 the only place I could find to sit except on the damp sand at time, was on a jagged rock. In the sand in front of it and a little to the right, a small, very unpleasant memory I am sure, was on a jagged rock.

It was a painful six or eight weeks. This unpleasant memory I am sure, does not unduly prejudice me to the need of this improvement and I am confident many others would be glad to spend hours on the beach and not so old would also like it.

An easterner misses a boardwalk, but the pavilion would be a relatively inexpensive compared to a pier or boardwalk and I trust you will invite further trust in the much-read Peninsula News.

Pt. Loma To Collide With Grossmont Fri.

Triumphant over Mission Bay in the carnival last week, Point Loma High School's fighting football team will take on Grossmont High of the Metro League in Aztec Bowl Friday at 8 p.m.

Coach Bennie Edens was pleased at the performance of his Pointers in their debut at the Balboa Stadium carnival before a crowd of 20,000.

However, their one-touchdown edge over Mission Bay was gained in a one-quarter "game" and the full-scale battle against Grossmont tomorrow night will provide a better test of their ability.

Bill Bradford, Point Loma's fullback, took Mission Bay's kickoff and sprinted the length of the field for an apparent touchdown. However, a clipping penalty nullified the score.

Quarterback Roger Soares got the TD later with a sparkling 12-yard dash that climaxed a steady march toward the goal. Good blocking sprung him loose.

Point Loma's aerial game is expected to feature the Grossmont tilt. Soares can throw 'em, and ends Roger Sneed and Alfred Gomes can catch 'em.

FALL FASHIONS

This week's issue of the Peninsula News comes in two sections, including an eight-page tabloid Fall Fashions supplement.

The supplement presents fall fashion news and advertising featuring fashions for men, women and children and home furnishings.

Boxing, Dancing Tumbling & Tap

A weekly boxing class will be started today (Thursday) at 4 p.m. at the O. B. Community Center, and the 8th and 9th grade Teen Towners dance is scheduled tonight from 7 to 8:30, according to Arthur F. Sick, principal recreation leader.

"This is a sign-up dance," he said. "Get an application for your 1957-58 membership card." Weekly tumbling classes will be started at 4 p.m. this Friday. Tap dancing will begin Monday, Sept. 30 at 4:30 p.m.

Gardening Class

Last call to join the Gardening Class of Northwest Adult School is tonight (Thursday) from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 31 of Point Loma High School, announced Fred Bunge, principal.

Taught by Thorvald Andersen, who has had 30 years of professional gardening, the course includes soil conditioning, insect and pest control, planting and pruning of plants, pruning and fertilizing. A question and answer period will be held each evening. There is a $2 fee per semester.

Dr. Joe Apple Talks Tuesday

"Emotional Development of the Very Young Child" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. Joe A. Apple at a meeting of the San Diego Association for Nursery Education, Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p.m. All Saints Episcopal Day School, Sixth St. and Pennsylvania Ave.

Dr. Apple is professor of education at San Diego State College. A film also will be shown.

PTA BOARD SPONSORS TRIP TO HOLLYWOOD

A trip to Hollywood will be sponsored by the Ocean Beach PTA board members on Wednesday, Oct. 16.

The excursion will include a visit to a TV show, a Cinema (The Seven Wonders of the World), St. Sophia Greek Chapel, and dinner at a widely-known restaurant.

Anyone wishing to make the trip may contact Mrs. Michael Caltagirone, ways and means chairman, for reservations. (AC-2-8171.)

O. B. MOTHERS TO MEET FRIDAY

There will be a recruit meeting for mothers of girls interested in Scouting at the Community Center on Friday, Sept. 27, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

This meeting is for mothers of girls in the Ocean Beach and Sacred Heart Schools, it was announced.

Lions To Sell White Canes

Peninsula Lions Club members and wives will sell miniature White Canes Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and 28 in the Peninsula area, to raise money for the blind.

All funds derived from this annual sale go to the San Diego Blind Recreation Center on Upas St., and to aid two blind persons in this area, according to Bill Lucido, White Cane chairman for the local Lions Club.

Jack Arneson and Tom Smith are captains working under Chairman Lucido's direction. White Cane Week, Sept. 23-28, is being observed nationally for the first time this year, Lucido said. President Eisenhower issued a proclamation. The Peninsula Lions Club recently donated $100 to the Luis Sanchez benefit fund. (This blind child had been the subject of a TV broadcast centering around the efforts of Billie Pearson, jockey, to build up a fund for the child's future welfare.)

'Teahouse' Set At Old Globe

"Teahouse of the August Moon," the Pulitzer Prize-winning comedy by John Patrick, is the current attraction at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park. The popular play, which ran for two and one-half years on Broadway, is being presented by the San Diego Community Theatre nightly, except Mondays, at 8:30 through Oct. 20.

Heading the large cast are Walter Chase as Captain Fisby, Sachiko Lovinggood as Lotus Blossom, Joe Angarola as Sakini, Burt Miller as Captain McLean and Kenneth Barager as Col. Purdy.

Directed by Craig Noel, "Teahouse of the August Moon" tells the story of an American Army captain who becomes frustrated, harassed and hoodwinked as he tries to carry out plans made in Washington for the rehabilitation and administration of a little village in Okinawa following its occupation by American forces.

Peggy Kellner, Community Theatre art director, has transformed the Globe Theatre stage into an Okinawan village complete with teahouse and American jeep.

Tickets for "Teahouse of the August Moon" are available at the Globe Theatre box office in Balboa Park. The box office is open daily 9:30 - 5, and Sunday 2 - 5 p.m. Telephone reservations may be made by calling BE-9-9139.

San Diego AAUW Branch Meeting

"Youth and the Museum" will be the subject of a talk by Don M. Muchmore at a meeting of the San Diego Branch, American Association of University Women, Friday, Sept. 27, at 8 p.m., at the San Diego Woman's Club.

Muchmore, a former political science lecturer at San Diego State College, is director of the Museum of Science and Industry of California.

All women college graduates who are interested in belonging to AAUW may contact Mrs. J. Dale Sutliff, membership chairman, at AC-2-3976.

SOUP'S ON

Some joker in a sailor suit cut in on the intercom system of a San Diego-based ship and calmly announced: "The chicken with the day's duty, report to galley and run through the soup!"

SWEAT SIXTEEN

One Point Loma mother of teenagers had had it. Their gnawing inconsistency had settled in her hair until she was ready to throw up hands, issue SOS.

After a particularly exasperating episode, she was driving up steep Talbot St. hill when she saw two teenage boys trudging along with cans of oil. Their jalopy had run out and they had a deadline to meet at home (Sweetwater), they told her, as they climbed in her car.

"Your parents give you this deadline?" the driver asked, in a "survey" sort of fashion. "Oh, sure," was the answer. "By the way, how do you get along with them?" she inquired. "Oh, fine. It's hard at times, tho. They're so inconsistent, really get in a guy's hair," they said. "Parents are for the birds."

S. D. Choral Club Party Saturday

New members of the San Diego Choral Club will receive a social welcome into the group at a 'Round-Up Party' to be given in the patio at the home of Mrs. R. G. Wilson in La Mesa Saturday, Sept. 28, at 7 p.m.

Western attire and decor will be in fashion. A barbecue dinner will be followed by games and music.

Among those to be honored are Mmes. Herbert Seaman and Frank Hale from the Peninsula area.

HEARD AND LIKED

Listen or thy tongue will make thee deaf.

QUALIFIED GARDENER

Mrs. R. M. Carson, of 4364 Piedmont Dr., threw some watermelon seeds out in her backyard last year. In due time Old Mother Nature took over. Net result: a healthy vine bearing exceptionally large melons.

At a recent meeting of the Women of the Moose, Mrs. Carson "fed" watermelon to all members.

On hand to share the harvest was Mrs. Carson's mother Mrs. Robert Campbell, visiting from Willows, Calif.

SUGAR AND SPOON

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Myers, of 4627 Lotus St., announce the arrival Sept. 3 of a new granddaughter, Lynda Sue. Proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart (the former Barb Palm). Lynda Sue was welcomed by two sisters, Vicki and Kathy, and a brother, Jack.

HITHER, THITHER, YON

The executive board of Ocean Beach PTA welcomed all teachers with beautifully-wrapped

APPLES and notes attached which read: "Hello and welcome to Ocean Beach School." . . . Mrs. W. L. Vernon, of Cairo, Ill., is visiting her daughter Mrs. Ward H. Chennell, 1032 Santa Barbara St.

Carnival Theme Set For Bazaar

"Old-Time Town Carnival" is this year's theme for the annual bazaar at Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Ocean Beach.

This will be held in the church auditorium, 2001 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., Saturday, Oct. 5 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Plans call for a complete "Old-Time Town" whirl with booths decorated appropriately and the hosts and hostesses dressed in old-time attire.

A fish pond, doll booth and assortment of games are being set up for the young folks. For adults there will be such booths as fancy-work, country store, garden booth, novelty, bake sale, art, and raffles.

Tacos, tostados and soft drinks will be served at the back bar.

There is 14 vehicles per mile. One out of every 10 automobiles in the United States, says the State Department of Motor Vehicles, is registered in California.

More than 1000 drivers have their licenses revoked each year by the State Department of Motor Vehicles for violating probation following traffic convictions.

Failure to meet California's financial responsibility law resulted last year in suspensions by the State Department of Motor Vehicles of the driver licenses of 2483 persons.

The State Department of Motor Vehicles each year takes action against the driving privilege of more than 153,000 persons for failure to appear on traffic violations.
